Katydids Signaling Heatwave Won't Last Forever!

The katydids have been signaling us that the countdown to the end of summer has begun in the Catskills. They have been considered a prophet of weather to come. According to legend, when the katydids first start their song at night it means the first killing frost will occur in ninety days. Later in the summer when the katydid is heard during the day singing from the deep shadows, the first frost is but six weeks away. On the last day before the first hard frost, the katydid will sing its own farewell song.

With temperatures in the 90's I certainly wasn't thinking about fall, I heard the katydids this past week.

Katydids live just about everywhere throughout the Catskills. They are insects of the Tettigoniidae family and are commonly called katydids, bush-crickets or long-horned grasshoppers. They are more closely related to crickets than to grasshoppers.

There are more than 6,400 species of katydids that live in forested areas, thickets and in fields where there are plenty of shrubs and trees. They are often heard and not seen as they usually stay at the tops of the trees where more leaves are available. Most katydids are vegetarians and eat the leaves of deciduous trees and shrubs, especially oaks.

Some Katydids can grow over two inches in length and are a bright leafy green color. They have long oval shaped wings which are held vertically over the body resembling roof shingles. The wings have lots of veins and actually look like leaves. They have very long antennae often extending beyond the tip of the abdomen.

Both male and female katydids make sounds. They rub their front wings together to "sing" to each other. Katydids hear each other with ears that are located on their front legs.

Their breeding season will soon begin in the Catskills and last through early fall. Females will lay eggs on stems of plants. The eggs will hatch the following spring into nymphs, that look like katydids, just not fully grown. Katydid nymphs eat and grow, molting their skin several times. Each time the nymph sheds its skin it looks more like an adult. Finally, after its last molt, the nymph will have changed into an adult katydid.

Katydids can fly short distances when threatened, but they prefer to walk and climb. When they do fly, it is more of a downward flutter. If you see a katydid land on the ground, watch it and it will probaly walk to the nearest tree and begin to climb.

Enemies of the katydids are birds, bats, spiders, frogs, snakes, and other insect-eaters.

Their brilliant green color makes katydids attractive to the eye. They don't bite or sting. Best of all katydids bring music to the night, often commanding the chorus of summer evenings for us to enjoy. With the recent heat wave in the Catskills we have had the opportunity to leave the windows open during the night. Their sound brings back memories of open windows and falling asleep to nature's lullaby.

Perhaps you are like me, savoring every thought of summer and for now, enjoying the seasonal sound of summer.

Not until we hear their song all day long will the autumn season be approaching and then when we no longer hear the katydid's song in our backyards, we will also know winter will be just around the corner in the Catskills

For now –enjoy their evening melodies and the summer nights.

Two Nights In Lisbon Mysterious Book Report No. 501 by John Dwaine McKenna

What would you do? How would you react? If your spouse went for a walk one morning while you slept in . . . and was kidnapped? But that's not all. Suppose the two of you are in a foreign country, where you don't speak the language, you don't have any idea of the laws, nor your rights as a noncitizen. Then, just when you begin to have a glimmer of hope, the ransom demand comes —and it's a crushing amount —a sum that's denominated in the millions of dollars, far, far beyond your means. That's the nightmarish situation a woman named Ariel Pryce finds herself in at the beginning of best-selling, Edgar award-winning author Chris Pavone's newest thriller entitled Two Nights in Lisbon, (MCD, $28.00, 448 pages, ISBN 978-0-374-60476-9).

On the morning of her first day in Lisbon, Portugal, Ariel Pryce awakens to find that her husband John Wright is missing. He's there on business . . . she's there to spend some time with him. When she reports his absence, both the Lisbon Police Department detectives and the CIA are immediately suspicious. They ask her why there are no witnesses or video evidence of a crime being committed, why did Pryce change her name a few years ago and lastly, what about John Wright's service time with the CIA? As the story is slowly revealed layer by layer and bit by bit, new details emerge that complicate the murky details of the supposed kidnapping. For example, when Pryce comes up with two million Euros, a convoluted trail leads back to an individual who's not named, but is being vetted to be named Vice President of the United States . . . a man who will eventually be the President.

With every sentence, with every paragraph, and with every page, in alternating points-of-view and shifts back and forth in time, the novel races to an unexpected, unforeseen and unusual conclusion that will keep the readers

Lake Superior Beach Temporarily Closed

Bethel, NY - Due to an unhealthy algae bloom, Sullivan County has temporarily suspended swimming and paddleboat rentals at Lake Superior State Park in Bethel.

"Cyanobacteria, better known as blue-green algae, has increased to potentially harmful levels at Lake Superior's beach, due in large part to the ongoing hot weather," Parks,

"After testing by a contractor with the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation, we agreed with the State Department of Health and the park's owner, the Palisades Interstate Park Commission, to close the beach and restrict swimming and boating in that area through at least this Monday, August 8," Scardefield added. "We will continue to daily monitor the water quality and will have an update early next week."

In the meantime, Lake Superior State Park remains open for picnicking and land-based recreation. Paddleboat rentals will not be available for the duration of the beach closure, due to their proximity to the algae.

If someone is exposed to the algae, they should:

- Rinse the affected area with clean water as soon as possible
- Consider medical attention if vomiting or experiencing diarrhea, irritation or breathing difficulties
- · Report symptoms to the NYS Department of Health (845-794-2045)

For more information, visit http://www.health.ny.gov/harmfulalgae.

Other swimming locations in the area include public access points along the Delaware River; municipal pools in Bethel, Callicoon, Liberty and Monticello; and resorts such as the Villa Roma, Kartrite and Resorts World Catskills.

August 8 - Update: Lake Superior State Park's beach and paddleboating remain unavailable as of this week (August 8). Further testing on the algae bloom will be done in a few days, weather permitting, after which another update will be shared.

Recreation and Beautification Director Brian Scardefield explained. "People and animals who come in contact with the algae may develop irritation of the skin, eyes, nose, throat and respiratory tract - or nausea, diarrhea and vomiting if they swallow any of it."

MAMMA MIA AT THE FORESTBURGH PLAYHOUSE: THE MOST ENJOYABLE MUSICAL IN SULLIVAN COUNTY'S 2022 SEASON!

William A. Brenner

It should not go unreported nor unrecognized that the most enjoyable, liveliest, funniest, bounciest, and raunchy family show in the Sullivan County 2022 theatrical season (to date) was "MAMMA MIA", the musical which played at the Forestburgh Playhouse to packed performances from July 19-Sunday, July 31st.

With music and lyrics by Benny Andersson and Bjorn Ulvaeus, and Stig Anderson (The Swedish group "ABB") and directed and choreographed by Chaz Wolcott in a wild frenzy, it told the hilarious story of a 21-year-old free-spirited girl getting married on an isolated Greek island. Raised by her sweet, loving, promiscuous mother, she secretly invites her three fathers (count them), with the wish to find out which one really is.

Like true comedy, the audience laughed, and with true sensitivity, the audience also had tears flowing. "MAMMA MIA" was both a smash on Broadway and a great movie. This live show fell nothing short of fantastic as it had the audience caught up with emotions as everyone remembered the hectic preparations, the confessions, the unhinged plans, the revelations and the ultimate joy and surprise at the wedding.

At the curtain call, the entire cast sang about five encore songs from the show. When they sang "Dancing Queen" there was dancing in the narrow aisles of the theatre.

Eventually everyone went home smiling and humming. Many of the young cast members waited outside and were greeted by friends and relatives. The superb cast was in good part local actors and actresses selected from Producer Franklin Trapps "stable" of the finest members of Actors Equity Associatioon, which is the union of professional actors and stage managers in the United States.

Outside the Forestburgh Theatre is surrounded by the most magnificent garden of blooming flowers planted and designed by 'Perennial Gardens Landscaping' which is a show in-itself. Inside the Playhouse, the professional acoustics were crystal clear with respect to the music and hearing every word of every song. The band was set up behind the stage.

A few of the central characters, excellent actors, singers, and continually shaking their tops and bottoms, were the bride to be Jessi Kirtley, and mother to the bride Christina Stroup. The three prospective fathers were played by Edward Staudenmayer, Scott Evans, and Joseph Torello.

This reporter heard that each of the shows were sold out - obviously the word of mouth spread among the summer hotels, bungalow colonies, camps, and seniors with their summer passes.

Praising this performance in great publicity for other Broadway shows playing in Forestburgh such as "Something Rotten" (August 2-August 14) and "Kinky Boots" (August 16-28).

Let us also make note in Eastern Sullivan County (East of Route 17) is the Sullivan County Dramatic Society in the refurbished Rivoli Theatre on Route 42 in South Fallsburg. In August they are presenting "The Little Mermaid" and in September "Belfast Girls".

Aside from the awesome concerts at Bethel Woods, in Ellenville (Ulster County) in the Shadowland Theatre.

Also, for a variety of musical entertainment in Sullivan County, in Narrowsburg, the Delaware Valley Arts Alliance presents Opera; and in upper Sullivan County, by Livingston Manor is the Shandelee Music Festival featuring violins (not fiddles).

Sullivan County is a very diverse and entertaining county.

For all those campers and Blue Hole guests, don't forget before leaving back home to head up to the Neversink General Store to fill the tank up. Their price for gas is still the best bargain we have found in Sullivan, Ulster and Orange Counties! Not only do they have gas for your car, lawn mowers and generators (when the power goes out), the Neversink General Store also can fill your BBQ tanks up so you don't run out for your backyard BBQs. And if you don't feel like cooking, Neversink General Store also has a great menu. You can eat inside or outside, or take it with you. The BBQ Shed is opened on weekends! If you are health conscious, this is the place for you. They have a great selection of wholesome home made food. Speaking of good food, if you are planning an event, call them at 845.985.2076 and speak to them about catering your event.

Haven't gotten there yet, but we hear there are Pilates Classes on Wednesday at 5 pm. If you can't make it during the week, Pilates Classes will be held on Sundays at 10 am. Interested? Register inside the Neversink General Store. The classes are held in the "pop up gallery" where you will notice the beautiful masterpieces on the walls by local world-known artist, Joerg Madelaner. Speaking of artists, there are also the creations of several local artisans on display and for sale at the Neversink General Store.

If you are in the Grahamsville area, stop by the Grahamsville Deli. Enjoy their new bright and cheery makeover. Their homemade food (Chef Medi is in the kitchen) is always tasty They also have the 'staples' and more. Remember to ask about their special —"The Sundown"! I wonder who thought that up?

And don't forget the beautiful Russian Mule in Claryville. Not only do they offer their special crafted beers, their menu serves to suit all of your taste buds. Delicious and served by the most friendly people in the Catskills! You may eat in, eat outside and enjoy the beautiful gardens or take your food to go. See Page 26 for times, dates and movies.

You still have time to visit Time in the Valleys Museum in Grahamsville. Once you go, you will want to go back again and again! Time and the Valleys Museum is a living and interactive resource that preserves the past, educates the present and ensures the uniqueness of the Rondout and Neversink watersheds for all generations. Located behind the Museum, the new 1930s Lost Catskill Farm tells the story of farmers who were forced to give up their land to build NYC's water system. Period buildings include a farm house, outhouse, milk house and workshop powered by a working waterwheel. An 1870's barn was painstakingly disassembled and reassembled on site, and visitors can also see an original 1930's power plant.

The Museum is located in Sullivan County, on State Rte. 55 in Grahamsville. It is easily reached by taking State Rte. 55 west from State Rte. 209 in Ellenville, from Liberty by State Rte. 55 east to Grahamsville and from Monticello by State Rte 42. Open: Saturdays & Sundays 12pm to 4pm. Other days and times by appointment. For maps of local tours provided by the Time in the Valleys Museum go: to: https://www.timeinthevalleysmuseum.org/Driving-tours/ Keep watching The Townsman for upcoming events this summer.

And don't forget one of the most enjoyable of all places in town, the Daniel Pierce Library. Gloss through the pages of The Townsman and you will see all the opportunities they are offering this summer. Maybe you will just want to go to the library and browse the shelves for a good book or get some real bargains under the big tent.

Remember, you don't have to burn a tank of gas –all this is in our in our own backyards!

Ulster County Reports First Confirmed Case of Monkeypox

Ulster County Department of Health is conducting case investigation to identify close contacts

Close contacts will be offered the JYNNEOS vaccine

KINGSTON, N.Y. - Ulster County Commissioner of Health Dr. Carol Smith reported that Ulster County has its first confirmed case of Monkeypox. The Ulster County Department of Health has been preparing for this contingency and is poised to respond quickly to ensure public health and safety. Public health nurses are conducting case investigation to identify any potential close contacts, and those close contacts will be offered the JYNNEOS vaccine by the Ulster County Department of Health. Others who believe they have been exposed to Monkeypox may also be eligible for the vaccine and should call their doctor.

"The Ulster County Department of Health has been monitoring the spread of Monkeypox cases in New York State. We are in daily contact with public health officials at the state level to stay abreast of the latest developments," Ulster County Commissioner of Health Dr. Carol Smith said. "We have a limited supply of the JYNNEOS vaccine to administer to individuals who meet the criteria established by the New York State Department of Health. We have been engaged in a public awareness campaign to share information about Monkeypox through social media and public service announcements. We also have access to treatment through the State for severe cases. If you believe you have been exposed to Monkeypox, contact a healthcare provider. Medical providers should reach out to the Ulster County Department of Health if a suspected case of Monkeypox comes to their attention."

"I want to reassure residents that we are actively managing these developments through our team of public health experts and in coordination with the State Department of Health," Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan said. "I encourage all residents to be informed of Monkeypox symptoms and to call your doctor if experiencing any. We will continue to update the public to ensure full transparency as the situation develops."

Monkeypox is a viral infection in the same family as smallpox and spreads in several ways such as by direct contact with Monkeypox lesions through skin-to-skin contact, or by contact with respiratory droplets or saliva from someone with Monkeypox. It can also spread through touching objects, fabrics (clothing, bedding, or towels), and surfaces that have been used by someone with monkeypox.

Monkeypox symptoms can include:

- o Rashes, bumps or blisters on or around the genitals or in other areas like hands, feet, chest or face.
- o Flu-like symptoms, such as fever, headache, muscle aches, chills and fatigue. These symptoms may occur before or after the rash appears, or not at all.

Currently, New York State guidelines limit Monkeypox vaccine eligibility to individuals who meet the following criteria:

- o Individuals with recent exposure to a suspected or confirmed monkeypox case within the past 14 days.
- o Those at high risk of a recent exposure to monkeypox, including gay men and members of the bisexual, transgender, and gender non-conforming community and other communities of men who have sex with men and who have engaged in intimate or skin-to-skin contact with others in the past 14 days areas where monkeypox is spreading.
- o Individuals who have had skin-to-skin contact with someone in a social network experiencing monkeypox activity.

For more information:

- o Follow @UCDeptHealth on Facebook, Instagram or Twitter for more information on Monkeypox.
- o Call the Ulster County Service Center at 845-443-8888, Monday-Friday, from 9:30am-4:30pm. Ask to speak to a public health nurse, if reporting symptoms.
- o Visit the New York State Department of Health's website to learn more: https://health.ny.gov/diseases/communicable/zoonoses/monkeypox/.
- o Sign up for Monkeypox Text Message Alerts from New York State by texting "MONKEYPOX" to 81336 or "MONKEYPOXESP" for texts in Spanish. By providing a zip code, New Yorkers can also opt-in for location-based messages, which may include information on vaccines and care in your area.

Where our Recycling Goes

Submitted by Thomas Houghtaling

Every day, many people around the world take their recycling to a transfer station or put it into a recycling bin, and have no idea what happens to it after that.

In May, I was given the chance to tour the Sullivan County Landfill with Mark Witkowski, the Deputy Commissioner of the Division of Public Works. While there, I was educated on how the facility is operated, how the different types of waste are managed, and where the waste goes after it leaves the facility.

I learned that waste and recycling are managed at the landfill and then transferred to different locations. Recycling is taken to a factory in Beacon, where it is separated, broken down, and then sold. Waste is taken to Syracuse, where it is treated, and then put into the landfill. However, the Sullivan County is currently working on a 1.6 million dollar composting project, which will turn food scraps into useful topsoil.

Other materials such as tires, TVs, and refrigerators can also be recycled. Tires can go to a company, where they are repurposed for playgrounds or may be reused for cars if they are in good condition. TVs and refrigerators can be smashed and turned into scrap metal.

Hopefully this helps people have a better understanding of what happens to their waste after they drop it off at the transfer station.

2022 Woodstock Monoprint Exhibition & Auction

Woodstock, NY. August 3, 2022: Woodstock School of Art (WSA) kicks off its 2022 Woodstock Monoprint Invitational Exhibition on September 10 running through October 8, 2022. The Silent Auction for this popular fundraising event, now in its fifth year, is Saturday, September 10th, 2-4pm, in the school's Robert H. Angeloch Gallery.

Some of the staff and friends of WSA enjoy the last day of creating during the Monothon. They want you to join WSA for the Silent Auction on September 10th. (Left to Right) Dion Ogust, Maggie Oakes, Joan Ffolliott, Mizuyo Aburano, Chelsea Viestra, Maya Oakes, Renee Zhang, Anthony Kirk, Linda Lynton, Nina Doyle, Susanna Ronner and Kate McGloughlin "The Monothon was initially designed to introduce local and regional artists to our wonderful new print shop and to give them the opportunity to work with some of the best master printers we knew...it's become a way to bring the forces of creativity and community together in a week-long, exhilarating and exhausting crescendo, bringing out the best in everyone involved. We're thrilled with the art work that has been generated and that we will offer to our wonderful community of collectors-the silent auction on September 10th will be a thrilling opportunity for everyone to go home with the freshest looking fine art and help benefit the Woodstock School of Art and its mission." Says Kate McGloughlin, WSA Board of Directors.

The monoprints, all starting at $200, are created by 63 national, regional, and local artists who are invited to participate in a 7-day print Monothon held the last week in July. WSA and the participating artists are excited for the return of this fundraiser. Due to COVID the fundraiser has not been held since 2019.

"After a three year COVID hiatus, I am very pleased to return to Woodstock School of Art (WSA) to assist them as a Master Printer for their annual monotype printmaking fundraiser. WSA has in recent years established one of the finest printmaking studios in North America and rivals those of any accredited art school or university art department...." says Anthony Kirk one of the 2022 Master Printers.

Along with Anthony Kirk, Lisa Mackie returned as Master Printer this year. The addition of the Charles Brand Etching press donated by Bernard Greenwald was a great success to producing the prints with ease this year. "What a successful Monothon!... The new press in the studio is working amazing and it is so helpful for this year's Monothon. Overall this exhibition is a wonderful way of showcasing the ranges of Monotype. Happy Printing!" Says 2022 Monothon Master Printer Lisa Mackie.

New Master Printers for this year's event included Dan Welden, Sophy Naess and Malgorzata (Maggie) Oakes. Dan shared "How can one say more about - perfection. Besides having two wonderful artists to work with, the organization and helpful manner of Kate is unsurpassable...the pleasure was mine." With all the participating artists, over 300 pieces of work were created, from which one piece per artist was chosen for this eagerly anticipated exhibit. Sophy Naess a Senior Critic at Yale University School of Art, had her first experience of working in the graphics studio and said "Woodstock School of Art has the most beautiful print shop, what a dream to work in the studio and with such a great community...." Maggie is an instructor at WSA, SUNY New Paltz and other area art schools. "...WSA is an amazing place that supports diverse individuals offering them opportunity to create and heal through creative experience. It is about exposing community to the culture and the arts." says Maggie Oakes.

Image: Montine Jordan and Dan Welden evaluate Montine's print, image courtesy of Dion Ogust The artists and the buyers of the monoprints are not the only contributors to this significant fundraising event. Ten local restaurants and stores, as well as 9 community members, supplied the lunch each day for the hardworking Monothon Master Printers, artists, and volunteers. The participating artists enjoyed lunch with their peers as well as non-stop assistance with their creative work.

Thanks to all the donators to the 2022 Monothon! Businesses included Bistro-to-Go, Pearl Moon, Blick, Catskill Art Supply, Stewart's Shops, Hannaford, Bread Alone, Catskill Mountain Pizza, Adam's Fairacre Farms, and White Feather Farm.

Join us September 10th at 2-4 pm in the Robert H. Angeloch Gallery at WSA for the Woodstock Monoprint Exhibition and Auction. Prints are 8x10 or 10x8 and available for a minimum bid of $200. All proceeds benefit the WSA building fund.

WSA provides classes in fine art, including drawing, painting, printmaking, and sculpture are offered year-round in the School's fully climate-controlled studios situated in historic bluestone and native timber buildings.

The Woodstock School of Art, Inc. is a not-for-profit, 501(c)3, educational institution chartered under the laws of the State of New York. It is located in New York's famed artists' colony of Woodstock, surrounded by the pristine woodlands of the Catskill Mountains, about 100 miles north of New York City.

Hadassah Offers a Summer Full of Special Events

On August 3, the local Hadassah arranged for a tour of the Bethel Woods museum. Reports Bonnie Mitzner, Co-President of Hadassah Catskill Mountain Chapter, "The docent we had was amazing. He was so knowledgeable and gave us insights as to the climate in the country at that time. Politically the country was in a tumultuous time. The ongoing the Vietnam War was at its height and being seen every night in the news. Young people attending colleges were exchanging ideas with their peers. The world was changing and a festival advocating love, peace and music was the balm that was needed."

Bonnie marveled that, "Getting the festival off the ground was a feat in and of itself. It was originally set to be held in Ulster County, then moved to Walkill in Orange County. With three weeks till the start it was moved to Yasgur Farm in Sullivan County, where it was too late to change the name of the festival. Ultimately, over 500,000 were in attendance and, despite the rain and lack of food and sanitation, history was made which has never been repeated."

The Hadassah Catskill Mountain Chapter sponsors events throughout the summer, most of which take place at Temple Sholom in Monticello and are open to the public. On August 9 at 7 pm, Eugenia Manwelyan, a Catskills-based artist and environmental planning practitioner, will teach and lead Israeli dances, and on August 29 at 11 AM, Shain Fishman will conduct a chair yoga class. On September 21 at 7 PM Donna & Rick Nestler, a lively 2-piece musical band, will offer a concert of good-time music -- Jug Band, Folk, Americana, and original tunes.

Refreshments will be served at all events, and proof of vaccination is required.

Rain or Shine (in the event of rain the celebration will be indoors from 3:00 PM until 6:00 PM at the Mescal Hornbeck Community Center)

Woodstock is the only town in America that has an event like this in which all volunteers both current and retired are appreciated for their kindness, generosity, bravery and positive community spirit.

Letter to the Editor:

Western Drought Causing Water Shortage

The drought in the Western U.S. has been accelerating for 20 years and the water supplied by the Colorado River to two major reservoirs has decreased to near record low levels. Lake Mead is at 28% capacity and Lake Powell is at 27% capacity.

About 40 million people in Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming, Arizona, California and Nevada rely on this water supply. Next year significant cuts will have to be made to the water supplied to these states.

Climate change has worsened drought conditions in the Western U.S. Average temperatures have increased 2 to 3 degrees Fahrenheit in recent years. In Phoenix, the hottest city in the U.S., the average Summer temperature has increased 3.8 degrees since 1970. Phoenix is trying to lessen the heat impact by planting tree canopies, expanding the light-rail system and painting roadways white.

A combination of actions is necessary to lessen the impact of the drought, including a reduction in greenhouse gas emissions, increased use of renewable energy sources and conservation and rationing of water. Studies should be conducted to evaluate the feasibility of transporting water from the oceans and major rivers by pipeline and constructing more desalination plants.

Governor Hochul Announces New Online Process for New Yorkers to Choose "X" Gender Marker on Driver License or ID Office Visits to the Department of Motor Vehicles No Longer Required for Customers to Amend License and IDs

Marks Another Step Toward Equality for the LGBTQ+ Community

Governor Kathy Hochul today announced that individuals who have a New York State driver license, learner permit, or non-driver ID can use a new online process to choose "X" as a gender marker without visiting a Department of Motor Vehicles office. New Yorkers can go to the DMV website to change their gender marker to "X", making it faster and easier to get an identity document that accurately represents who they are.

"I am excited to announce this historic change that represents another victory in our fight to help ensure equality and respect for the LGBTQ+ community," Governor Hochul said. "In New York, we are taking action to help ensure every person feels welcomed, represented, and free to live their truth, regardless of their gender identity or expression. My administration continues to be committed to this dream by giving New Yorkers the freedom to carry an identity document that represents their true self, ensuring that New York is a place of value, love and belonging."

This change follows the announcement by Governor Hochul in May that New Yorkers could update their gender marker on their driver license, learner permit, or non-driver ID card at DMV offices statewide. Those who are applying for an ID for the first time can also choose "X" as a gender marker when they visit the DMV to complete the application process. This can be done by completing the Application for Permit, Driver License or Non-Driver ID Card (MV-44).

Department of Motor Vehicles Commissioner Mark J.F. Schroeder said, "We are thrilled that our customers now can go online to privately and simply amend their license or ID to reflect who they are without fear of judgment. One small letter can have a monumental impact on a person's life and it is our privilege to give non-binary New Yorkers that opportunity."

This new online transaction is yet another step toward equality for the LGBTQ+ community. Governor Hochul also fought for major advancements in LGBTQ+ equity as part of this year's budget. The Enacted Budget includes $13.5 million for the Department of Health to support the LGBTQ+ community and more than doubles annual LGBTQ+ Health and Human Services funding.

In addition, the Budget includes landmark legislation requiring state agencies to provide an option for individuals to mark their gender or sex as a non-binary "X" on all state forms that collect gender or sex information. Agencies are also required to include that information in data collection. The Enacted Budget also enables transgender New Yorkers to change their names or gender designations on marriage certificates without leaving their dead names on them.

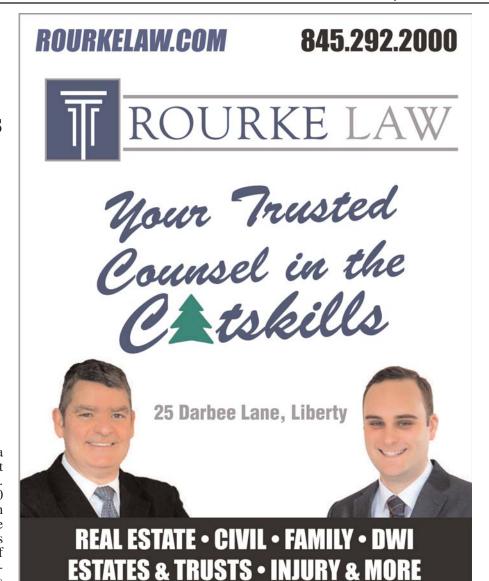

Attorney General James Takes Action to Crack Down on Rampant Robocalls and Protect Consumers Nationwide

AG James and Bipartisan Coalition of Attorneys General Form National Anti-Robocall Litigation Taskforce

AG James Offers Tips to Help New Yorkers Identify and Avoid Scam Calls

NEW YORK - New York Attorney General Letitia James today took action to crack down on rampant robocalls and protect consumers nationwide. Attorney General James joined a coalition of 50 attorneys general to form a nationwide, bipartisan Anti-Robocall Litigation Taskforce to investigate and take legal action against telecommunications companies responsible for enabling a majority of foreign robocalls into the United States. The taskforce will work to cut down on illegal robocalls made to consumers nationwide.

"Robocalls are more than just a nuisance, they are used to scam seniors and defraud consumers," said Attorney General James. "Across the country, phones are ringing off the hook with robocalls that sound legitimate but are actually a fraud. New Yorkers should not have to worry about being scammed whenever they answer their phone. I am proud to join this coalition to dial up our efforts to block these unwanted calls and protect consumers nationwide."

According to the National Consumer Law Center and Electronic Privacy Information Center, over 33 million scam robocalls target Americans every day. These scam calls include Social Security Administration fraud against seniors, Amazon scams against consumers, and many other scams often targeting vulnerable groups. These calls typically involve scammers falsely impersonating government agencies or well-known companies to deceive recipients. An estimated $29.8 billion dollars was stolen through scam calls in 2021. Most of this scam robocall traffic originates overseas. The Task Force is focused on shutting down the providers that profit from this illegal scam traffic and refuse to take steps to otherwise mitigate these scam calls.

The Task Force has issued 20 civil investigative demands to 20 gateway providers and other entities that are allegedly responsible for a majority of foreign robocall traffic. Gateway providers that bring foreign traffic into the U.S. telephone network have a responsibility to ensure the traffic is legal, but these providers are not taking sufficient action to stop robocall traffic. In many cases, they appear to be intentionally turning a blind eye in return for steady revenue. The Task Force will focus on the bad actors throughout the telecommunications industry to reduce the flow of illegal robocalls to New Yorkers.

Today's action builds on Attorney General James' commitment to end illegal and unwanted calls. In 2021, Attorney General James coled a bipartisan coalition of 47 attorneys general in urging Congress to pass the Fraud and Scam Reduction Act, which included provisions addressing robocalls.

Attorney General James offers the following tips to avoid scams and unwanted calls:

- o Be wary of callers who specifically ask you to pay by gift card, wire transfer, or cryptocurrency. For example, the Internal Revenue Service does not accept iTunes gift cards.
- o Look out for prerecorded calls from imposters posing as government agencies. Typically, the Social Security Administration does not make phone calls to individuals.
- o If you suspect fraudulent activity, immediately hang up and do not provide any personal information.
- o To report a scam, file an online complaint with the Office of the Attorney General's (OAG) Bureau of Consumer Frauds.

Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan Announces the Midtown Linear Park is Open

• Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan says the Midtown Linear Park is part of a larger vision for equitable community investments

• The Midtown Linear Park provides a critically-needed non-motorized transportation link between Midtown and the Kingston Plaza, improving food access and offering real solutions to the rising cost of fuel

KINGSTON, N.Y. - Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan announced today that the Midtown Linear Park project in Kingston is now open to the public. The park is part of the Kingston Greenline and runs from Cornell Street through Midtown to Westbrook Lane. It provides a critically-needed nonmotorized transportation link between Midtown Kingston and the Kingston Plaza, home to the city's only major supermarket and a UCAT bus transit hub. The Midtown Linear Park project converts a formerly blighted and nuisance corridor into a community amenity and asset, providing much-needed recreational green space for a neighborhood that currently lacks close access to open space and parkland.

Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan, Kingston Mayor Steve Noble, Legislator Abe Uchitelle and other members of the Ulster County Legislature, Pastor Fernando Salazar, Comptroller March Gallagher and representatives of the Kingston Land Trust, the Woodstock Land Conservancy, Friends of the Catskill Mountain Rail Trail, the YMCA and the Midtown community at a ribbon-cutting ceremony for the Midtown Linear Park between Downs and Oneil Streets in Kingston.

"The Midtown Linear Park is more than a park; it's part of a larger vision for an equitable economy: addressing food security through better access to the supermarket and offering real solutions to the rising cost of fuel with a walkable, bikeable path through the heart of Kingston, and a link to the UCAT bus," Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan said. "The Midtown Linear Park is also a physical reminder that we need to continue to invest in our communities. For Kingston residents, this is a critical investment in a neighborhood that has traditionally been left behind."

"This project is the culmination of so much collaboration between levels of government and those outside of government to improve the lives of families right here in Kingston. I want to thank my colleagues for believing in the value of this project," Ulster County Legislature Deputy Majority Leader Abe Uchitelle said. "Residents of Midtown deserve safe and well maintained outdoor space, and I'm so proud to see this project come to fruition in the heart of Kingston."

"I want to thank the County Executive and the County planning team for building this important section of the Kingston Greenline, which provides a vital connection to food, resources, and the Midtown Business District," Kingston's Mayor Steve Noble said. "Adding green spaces, especially in Midtown, was identified in both the City of Kingston's Open Space Plan and our Parks & Recreation master plan, and we're thrilled that the Midtown Linear Park will offer these amenities to our community. We appreciate the County's support in helping us realize this vision."

"With this park, it's easy for us to connect from Midtown to Hannaford," Pastor Fernando Salazar of the 2nda Iglesia La Mision Church said. "I have a dog, and that's one of the best spots to walk, ride a bike and have a safe place for our kids to play in our community. My congregation, who live around Midtown Kingston, are so excited about it."

The Midtown Linear Park is a 12-foot wide asphalt-paved surface that is ADA compliant and open for non-motorized uses, including walking, biking, jogging, dog walking and inline skating. The first phase of this federally-funded transportation project to design and construct a shared-use trail along the County's former Ulster & Delaware (U&D) Corridor is now complete, putting in place trail infrastructure, and the park is now open to the public. The next phase of the project will add more plantings and park amenities, and will include solicitation of public input on the design.

For more information on the Midtown Linear Park, visit https://ulstercountyny.gov/planning/linearpark.

Last month, Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan announced that Ulster County has received $3.96 million from New York State to convert 2.5 miles of the Ulster & Delaware (U&D) Railroad corridor to a multi-use trail with pedestrian bridges. The funding will be used to promote environmentally-friendly modes of travel on the corridor from Highmount to Belleayre Beach in the Town of Shandaken, reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

On June 1st, 2022, a new law proposed by Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan and approved by the Ulster County Legislature to cut county gas taxes went into effect. It cuts county gas taxes by 50% through December 1st, 2022.

The Fader-Gendron-Haas Trio debuts at the Shandelee Music Festival

SHANDELEE, NY: The 29th season of the Shandelee Music Festival continues on Saturday, August 13 with "An Evening of Chamber Music," featuring the Fader-GTendron-Haas Trio.

The concert will showcase compositions of Franz Josef Haydn, Johannes Brahms and Felix Mendelssohn. Melody Fader (piano), Emilie-Anne Gendron (violin) and Michael Haas (cello) formed the Fader-Gendron-Haas Trio after the inaugural concert of the "Melody and Company" chamber music series seven years ago. All three members of the trio were born and raised in Connecticut, yet it wasn't until they met in New York City (where they are currently based), and after they graduated from the Juilliard School, that they began making music together.

Their ever-growing repertoire includes the standard classical and romantic trio repertoire alongside newly commissioned works.

The New York Times lauded Emilie-Anne Gendron as a "brilliant soloist," and called Melody Fader's work "sumptuous and stirring," commenting also that she "plays with elegance," while the Washington Post hailed Michael Haas as a "sterling musician."

The August 13 concert by The Fader-Gendron-Haas Trio will be performed at SMF's fully accessible, climate-controlled Sunset Concert Pavilion, located at 442 J. Young Road, Livingston Manor.

All performances in the Sunset Concert Series begin at 8 p.m. Tickets are $35 for adults, $30 for SMF members, and $10.00 for students 17 and under. Advanced reservations are strongly suggested. Call 845-439-3277. Or purchase your tickets and get more information online at http://www.shandelee.org.

Third Annual Ulster County Food Fight!

(Ulster County, NY) The Ulster County Food Fight isan annual food collection contest held in cooperation with fourteen libraries throughout Ulster County from Thursday, September 1 to Saturday, October 15. The "Food Fight" is part of the Great Give Back on October 15, happening throughout New York State.

The common goal is to "spread food all over Ulster County" by filling up the shelves of local food pantries and putting an end to hunger in our communities. The library that collects the highest number of food items during this period wins the Food Fight, receives a winners' certificate, and bragging rights for the year!

Help your library win the Food Fight with your donations of non-perishable (and non-expired) food items for local food pantries. It sounds like a messy fight, but this is a clean competition that supports the neighbors in your community.

Last year library patrons throughout Ulster County donated 4,678 items. Our goal this year is 6,000 donated items. Help be a part of this fun competition and worthy cause!

The following libraries will be participating:

Gardiner Library: 845-255-1255 Highland Public Library: 845-691-2275

Sullivan Farmers Markets Launches New Website to Kick Off National Farmers Market Week

LIBERTY, NY - The Sullivan Catskills Farmers' Markets collective is inviting the community to join in the celebration of farmers' markets during National Farmers' Market Week, August 7th through the 13th. The markets have special activities or events scheduled like a book signing, live music, and cooking demos.

This year, the collective is launching their new website to kick off National Farmers Market Week: www.SullivanCatskillsFarmersMarkets.org. The website is a new resource to learn more about each farmers market, their location, the farmers themselves, recipes, tips for shopping at the market and how to use different currencies and benefits at the market.

"Farmers markets are inclusive and welcoming, and it starts with the friendly farmers. Ninety two percent of shoppers enjoy meeting farmers. To them, that connection adds even more value to their purchase," said Melinda Meddaugh, Agriculture and Food Systems Issue Leader of Cornell Cooperative Extension Sullivan County. "When the Sullivan Catskills Farmers' Markets say 'everybody', they mean it," affirmed Melinda Meddaugh. "Those who receive SNAP, WIC, senior, and veteran benefits all are incentivized to shop local at the markets. WIC mothers and seniors over 60 that meet basic qualifications are able to receive $25 in farmers' market checks, free. In fact, SNAP recipients get a $1 for $1 match for fruits and vegetables when they use their EBT card at eligible farmers' markets. To learn more about receiving these incentives and eligible locations, visit our new website.

Farmers Market Week is the perfect opportunity for anyone who has yet to visit a local market to experience today's farmers market: it's fun, socially fulfilling, and a great way for the entire family to eat healthier and support our neighbors - hardworking Catskills farmers!

Check out one of the special events happening at our Sullivan Catskills Farmers Markets during National Farmers Market Week:

Barryville Farmers Market: Saturday, August 12th Live Music Kauneonga Lake Farmers Market: Saturday, August 13th Cooking Demo

NICK NEEDS KIDNEY -TYPE O

(IN SOME CASES TYPE A BLOOD COULD WORK)

Chronic Kidney Disease (CKD) progresses in stages and, if untreated, can lead to complete loss of kidney function. At CKD stage 5, when both kidneys fail completely, the only options for survival are dialysis or a kidney transplant. Nick is at stage 5.

If interested in donating please contact Westchester Medical Center and speak with a Living Donor Coordinator at 914.493.1990

More about our warrior Nick....

Nick was diagnosed with Tuberous Sclerosis Complex (TSC) at birth. TSC is a neurological disorder that produces seizures, tumors, and lesions that effect the organs of the body and can cause Autism. Nick has been battling with seizures his whole life from infantile spasms to adult grand-mal seizures. May 2019 we heard the worst news that Nick's function was under 10% on both kidneys. Since then Nick has had multiple surgeries so he could get the proper dialysis preformed. Nick goes in center for 4 hours 3 times a week. Not what the sweetest, kindest, 31 year old should be going through.

Nick has such a big heart and is loved by so many in our community. We all want Nick to have the best quality of life and going through dialysis does not provide that quality. We hope and pray a kidney comes to us and that Nick will be able to live a happy and healthy life doing what he loves and that is to bicycle all throughout our town making people smile. Nick is a big part of the community, he takes pride with his volunteer work with the EMS and is the Honorary member of the Monticello Fire Department.

Lets all band together for Nick and help him find a kidney so he can live life to the fullest!

Volunteers needed to help make The Hudson Valley Garlic Festival a Zero Waste Event! October 1st and 2nd, 2022

Richard Kappler, Chairperson of the Kiwanis Club of Saugerties Hudson Valley Garlic Festival committee, announces that this year's Garlic Festival will institute a Zero Waste System. The Festival is scheduled for October 1st and 2nd, 2022, at Cantine Field in Saugerties, NY. The Zero Waste System is designed and will be managed by Greenway Environmental Services of Clintondale, NY.

Greenway is issuing a call-to-action, requesting that people who would like to volunteer, sign up for 3-hour shifts to assist in the separation and collection of the materials. Shabazz Jackson, President of Greenway believes "The Kiwanis Club has provided the leadership and support. Now, the energy and hard work from the volunteers is the only way this festival will transition from a garbage generator to a Zero Waste Event."

The addition of Zero Waste to the Hudson Valley Garlic Festival is a fitting celebration of garlic, the farmers who grow it, and finally returning the fertility back to the land.

For questions or to volunteer please contact Greenway at 845-656-6071 or greenway777@aol.com or sign up here.

Introduced the American Energy is Global Security Act to Lower Costs and Protect American Energy Independence

Due to President Biden's anti-energy policies, including canceling oil and gas lease sales, Americans are dealing with record-high energy prices. Just this week, the White House celebrated the average price of gas reaching $4.16. This is absurd! Gas cost an average of $2.38 per gallon when Biden took office.

In New York, the Cuomo-Hochul Administration enacted its own unscientific, anti-energy policies. This included banning safe energy exploration without any solid environmental or scientific evidence backing the ban up. This has been disastrous for our state and for America's energy independence.

New York is sitting on top of the Utica and Marcellus shale formations, which could power our state with clean energy for decades. Unfortunately, far-left policies in Albany and Washington have severely limited our ability to safely tap into these reserves, threatening America's energy independence, raising prices, and killing thousands of well-paying jobs. As Americans struggle with record-high costs due to Joe Biden and Kathy Hochul's energy and economic illiteracy, it is time we take actions to reverse this disaster and restore our nation's energy independence. Americans need clean energy at lower costs now, and delivering on this commitment can and should start right here in New York.

That's why I introduced the American Energy is Global Security Act (https://tenney.house.gov/media/press-releas-es/congresswoman-tenney-introduces-american-energy-global-security-act-lower) to lower costs for American consumers, power New York State into the future, and secure America's energy independence. This bill would incentivize New York to repeal the statewide ban on hydraulic fracturing by tying it to certain federal green-energy grant programs. America needs an all-of-the-above energy strategy!

It's Time to Drop the Unscientific COVID Vaccine Mandates and #LetNovakPlay

On Tuesday, I sent a letter to Secretary of State Antony Blinken urging him to issue a National Interest Exemption so that world renowned tennis star Novak Djokovic can compete in the 2022 U.S. Open in New York.

Under Presidential Proclamation 10294, individuals who are not U.S. citizens, Lawful Permanent Residents, or U.S. nationals, are subject to a vaccine mandate in order to enter the country. As such, tennis star Novak Djokovic, who has had COVID-19 but has not received a COVID-19 vaccine, is ineligible to travel to the United States to compete in the 2022 U.S. Open, while others, including unvaccinated Americans, will participate in the tournament.

In the letter, I also pressed for the removal of the vaccine mandate for international travel altogether, acknowledging both the present shortcomings of the COVID vaccine as well as the rights of individuals to decide for themselves whether to receive it. You can read the full letter here:

CLAUDIA TENNEY Meusen or Concress Now York 23no Ballect

House Small Business Committee House Foreign Affairs Committee

Congress of the United States

House of Representatives Washington, DC 20515-3222

August 2, 2022

The Honorable Antony Blinken U.S. Department of State 2201 C St, NW Washington, DC 20520

Dear Secretary Blinken:

I write today to urge you to permit tennis superstar Novak Djokovic, among others, to enter the United States to compete in the 2022 U.S. Open. Even though several Americans who are unvaccinated will take part in the tournament this year, prominent players from around the world, including Novak Djokovic, will not be able to participate due to the COVID-19 vaccine mandate instituted by President Joseph R. Biden. I strongly urge you to issue National Interest Exemptions for unvaccinated members of the Association of Tennis Professionals who otherwise meet the high standards of eligibility to compete in the U.S. Open.

As you may be aware, the U.S. Open is arguably the premier tennis competition in the world and is a prime example of the connection between sports and international diplomacy. International competitions such as the U.S. Open allow for athletes and fans from around the world to bond over their shared love of sports. Additionally, the U.S. Open generates an economic impact of more than $1 billion annually. Preventing top athletes, including 21-time Grand Slam winner Novak Djokovic, from competing in these high-level events will reduce their vitally important diplomatic and economic impact, with no tangible benefit to public health or safety. In the case of Mr. Djokovic, he has also reportedly contracted COVID-19 twice already, underscoring the fact that he likely has natural immunity that, as credible studies indicate, provides immunity against future infection that can be stronger than that gained through vaccination alone.

We now know that the vaccine does not prevent the spread of COVID-19 or protect an individual from getting the virus. President Biden, Members of Congress, and thousands of Americans have recently contracted COVID-19, despite being fully vaccinated and boosted. While both vaccination and prior infection has been shown to reduce the seriousness of future infection, I continue to believe that receiving the vaccine or not should be a personal choice, not a government mandate. Furthermore, Presidential Proclamation 10294 does not apply to U.S. citizens, Lawful Permanent Residents, or U.S. nationals, an exception that I strongly support. However, the scientific basis for requiring one class of visitors to receive a vaccine and not another is baffling. This is especially true of elite athletes whose very livelihood depends on maintaining the highest possible level of health and fitness.

China is the United States' greatest adversary on the world stage. However, President Biden's policies, like lifting tariffs on solar panels made with Chinese components and pressuring Speaker Pelosi into backing out of a visit to Taiwan over threats from the Chinese government, are projecting weakness, not strength. This week I joined Fox News to share my thoughts on Speaker Pelosi's trip to China and the Biden Administration's failure to present a united front.

New York State Announces $15,000 Pay Increase to Attract and Retain DEC Environmental Conservation Police Officers and Forest Rangers in Lower Hudson Valley and Downstate Locations

Sign up for law enforcement civil service exam by August 10

The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) and the Department of Civil Service today announced a $15,000 Geographic Pay Differential was approved for Environmental Conservation Police Officers and Forest Rangers located in the lower Hudson Valley and downstate areas. The measure will help the agency address recruitment and retention challenges for law enforcement in lower Hudson Valley and downstate regions.

DEC Commissioner Basil Seggos said, "ECOs, Investigators, and Forest Rangers are on the front lines of our comprehensive efforts to protect the environment and public safety and we must continue to attract the best and brightest to our ranks. We commend Governor Hochul and the Department of Civil Service for supporting this Geographic Pay Differential for our law enforcement staff deployed to Long Island, New York City, and the lower Hudson Valley, which is an important part of our efforts to recruit and retain expert Forest Rangers and ECOs."

Department of Civil Service Commissioner Timothy R. Hogues said, "DEC's ECOs and Forest Rangers patrol and protect New York's bountiful natural resources, and this pay increase will help DEC retain these talented and dedicated employees in the downstate regions. This marks the latest measure the Department of Civil Service is taking to ensure our compensation is competitive to attract the next generation of talent to public service careers. There is still time to apply to take the entry-level law enforcement exam, and I encourage all New Yorkers who may be interested in a career in law enforcement to sign up now."

The increase would boost the starting salary for Environmental Conservation Police Officers from $66,140 to $81,140, and for Forest Rangers from $63,034 to $78,034, effective July 21, 2022. The raise will help address a disparity in compensation between the State and competing employers in lower-Hudson and downstate areas.

Individuals who are contemplating a career with the DEC can apply for New York State's entry-level law enforcement civil service exam by August 10, 2022. People interested in being considered for entry-level law enforcement positions within state government must first meet the minimum qualifications for the title or titles of interest and register for the civil service exam by submitting all the required information on the Department of Civil Service website. https://www.cs.ny.gov/police/

The exam, a multiple-choice test, will be offered during the fall. To learn more about working for the State of New York and how to take the next step in pursuing a rewarding career in public service, please visit the Department of Civil Service website and follow the Department on Facebook, Twitter, and LinkedIn.

DEC Announces Completion of New York's First-Ever Pollinator Distribution Survey Empire State Native Pollinator Survey Documents Conservation Status of 451 species

New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) Commissioner Basil Seggos today announced the release of a multi-year survey of hundreds of pollinator species in New York State. The Empire State Native Pollinator Survey 2017-2021 provides the foundation for future pollinator research and conservation efforts.

"This new multi-year survey provides critical baseline information about hundreds of pollinator species in New York," Commissioner Seggos said. "With the assistance of our academic and other expert partners, the survey helps assess the health of these species, which are critically important for our environment and our economy, and identifies recommendations to help restore pollinator populations in the future."

In 2016, concerns over global declines in pollinators led to creation of New York's Pollinator Protection Plan (PDF), which called for an inventory of the state's native pollinators. With support from the Using New York State's Environmental Protection Fund, DEC contracted with the New York Natural Heritage Program (NYNHP) to develop and implement the survey. The full survey can be found at the NYNHP website. The goal of the project was to determine the conservation status of a wide array of native insect pollinators, including four groups of bees, two groups of flies, two groups of beetles, and two groups of moths. Butterflies were not included because the current status of butterflies is better understood than the other species studied.

To help design the survey, NYNHP assembled a team of experts from DEC, the State University of New York (SUNY) College of Environmental Science and Forestry (ESF), Cornell University, SUNY Cobleskill, the U.S. Geological Survey, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the American Museum of Natural History, the New York State Museum, Vermont Center for Ecostudies, and the Xerces Society for Invertebrate Conservation. During the project, biologists conducted hundreds of field surveys across the state, compiled data from museum collections, and reviewed observations from citizen scientists. Hundreds of volunteers provided tens of thousands of insect specimens, photographs, and observations. In total, biologists gathered more than 230,000 insect records. Using data from the study, NYNHP scientists generated maps of current and historical distributions and seasonal observation charts for 451 species.

One of the biggest take-aways from our New York State Pollinator Protection Plan was the critical need for continued research to broaden our understanding of pollinator decline," said State Agriculture Commissioner Richard A. Ball. "We have been working to ensure funding is consistently directed in this area and have seen tremendous results with research conducted by Cornell, and now with this survey, which provides us important insight into our pollinator populations and the future of this crucial sector to agriculture."

Erin White, Zoologist and Project Coordinator with the NYNHP, said, "NYNHP is proud to continue our mission of documenting the status of New York's biodiversity with this report on our native pollinators. We could not have done this without our dedicated partners and community scientists who allowed us to reach far and wide throughout New York. It is a sobering finding that more than a third of native pollinators surveyed are potentially imperiled and I hope this will prompt swift conservation actions to benefit these species."

Dr. Melissa Fierke, Chair, Professor, and Director, Cranberry Lake Biological Station at SUNY ESF said, "ESF is proud to contribute to this vital survey of New York state's native pollinators. These insects play a key role in the health of our ecosystems and our state's agriculture. Knowing the extent of peril our native species face is the first step in developing a conservation plan to not only preserve the pollinator population but restore it as well."

Dr. Carmen Greenwood, Associate Professor of Fisheries, Wildlife and Environmental Science at SUNY Cobleskill, said, "The Empire State Native Pollinator Survey, as designed by the New York Natural Heritage Program, is truly an outstanding model that should serve as an example for other states as they assess the status of their pollinators. The fact that so many of these species are potentially imperiled or too sparse to make a determination of their status supports the critical importance of assessing these animals and continuing to assess their status into the future."

Findings from the study confirm concerns about the health of some pollinator populations in New York State. The survey found that between 38 and 60 percent of the species studied are potentially imperiled or critically imperiled. Although the survey documented 16 bee and fly species for the first time in New York State, recent sightings or records could not be confirmed for 79 pollinator species previously recorded in New York. The study found that more than one-third of the native pollinators surveyed are at risk of becoming extinct in New York.

Pollinator populations can be helped by conserving habitat, controlling invasive plants, changing mowing regimes, converting lawns into meadows, paying attention to the siting and density of honey bee hives to reduce competition and spread of disease to native species, controlling deer browsing of the understory, retaining logs and snags in forests, and reducing unnecessary outdoor lights for nocturnal species. Consistent with the Pollinator Plan, DEC is advancing actions to protect habitats and further research to study the causes of pollinator loss

Pesticides also represent one of many factors that stress pollinators, and neonicotinoids, in particular, have been identified as a group of pesticides that, in general, are highly toxic to pollinators. Reducing pesticide use is another key way to help pollinators and earlier this year, DEC announced actions to limit the unrestricted use of pesticides that can harm bee and other pollinator populations. DEC is reclassifying certain products containing the neonicotinoid (neonic) insecticides imidacloprid, thiamethoxam, and acetamiprid as "restricted use" to ensure applications are limited to trained pesticide applicators in specific situations. Restricting the use of these pesticides enables DEC to collect new data to determine where, when, and how they are used, as well as their potential impacts. For more information, go to DEC's website

Environmental Conservation Police on Patrol

The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation's (DEC) Division of Law Enforcement enforces the 71 chapters of New York State's Environmental Conservation Law (ECL), protecting fish and wildlife and preserving environmental quality across New York. In 1880, the first eight Game Protectors proudly began serving to protect the natural resources and people of New York State. In 2021, 282 Environmental Conservation Police Officers (ECOs) and Investigators across the state responded to 26,207 calls and worked on cases that resulted in 11,562 tickets or arrests for violations ranging from deer poaching to solid waste dumping, illegal mining, the black market pet trade, and excessive emissions violations.

"DEC Environmental Conservation Police Officers and Investigators are on the front lines each and every day protecting our natural resources by upholding New York's environmental laws and regulations and safeguarding public health," DEC Commissioner Basil Seggos said. "From ensuring hunters and anglers follow rules and regulations afield and on the water, to sustaining partnerships with local law enforcement agencies investigating crimes that include solid waste dumping and air emissions violations, ECOs and Investigators are on patrol, ready to serve their communities. Each year brings new challenges, and fortunately, these Officers and Investigators are expertly trained to perform their duties with persistence, integrity, and good judgment, as they've done for over a century."

Resident Rattled by Rattlesnake - Orange County

In July, ECOs in Orange County received a tip from the Woodbury Police Department about a rattlesnake found dead in a driveway with its head cut off and rattle missing. The ECOs interviewed multiple parties before zeroing in on a main suspect. The man admitted to killing the snake by chopping its head off and said he did it because he had never seen a rattlesnake and was afraid. The Officers educated the man on the important role of timber rattlesnakes in the ecosystem and informed him the snakes are protected under State Environmental Conservation Law. The subject received two tickets for the illegal take and possession of a protected species. ECOs remind New Yorkers that rattlesnakes do not typically attack people unless threatened or provoked and advise people not to panic, keep a safe distance of six feet or more, and let the snake move along on its own.

Midnight Spearing - Sullivan County

On July 23 at about midnight, National Park Service (NPS) Rangers requested ECO Parker respond to the Delaware River fishing access in Narrowsburg in the town of Tusten after witnessing at least two boats allegedly spearfishing. ECO Parker responded, met with the NPS Rangers, and caught up with the first boater as it exited the waters. The Officers did not find fish on board but located a spear. The ECO ticketed the boater for possessing a spear on unpermitted waters and issued several navigation law offenses. NPS Rangers caught the second boater actively using a spear as they approached. Officers found 11 American eels and three spears on board. The boater was ticketed for using a spear on unpermitted water, as well as taking 11 eels except as permitted, and fishing by means other than angling. NPS Rangers also ticketed the second boater for two navigation law offenses.

Civil Service Exam Application Deadline Extended

The application date for the entry-level law enforcement civil service exam used to fill titles with DEC's ECOs and Forest Rangers, Office of State Parks, Recreation, and Historic Preservation, and the State University of New York was recently extended to Aug. 10. As part of the State's ongoing commitment to maintaining public safety and diversifying our ranks, we encourage New Yorkers of all backgrounds to consider a meaningful and rewarding career in public service and apply. Qualified candidates can apply online. https://www.cs.ny.gov/police/

DEC Announces Hunting and Trapping Licenses are Now on Sale Expanded Hunting Opportunities Continue for the 2022-2023 Season

New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) Commissioner Basil Seggos today announced hunting and trapping licenses and Deer Management Permits (DMPs) for the 2022-2023 seasons are now on sale. Expanded hunting opportunities offered last year are also available to hunters this year.

"Half-a-million New Yorkers enjoy hunting each year and DEC is excited to increase hunting opportunities again this season for long-time hunters and new participants to the sport," Commissioner Seggos said. "As always, safety is a top priority and I remind all hunters to follow the key principles of hunter safety before heading afield."

Licenses and permits can be purchased online, at license-issuing agents, or by phone at 866-933-2257. The new hunting and trapping licenses are valid from Sept. 1, 2022, through Aug. 31, 2023. Annual fishing licenses are valid for 365 days from the date of purchase.

New York's habitat serves a vital role in maintaining healthy and sustainable fish and wildlife resources. Purchasing a hunting, fishing, or trapping license helps support DEC's conservation projects and ensures the future of natural resources for generations to come. DEC also encourages outdoor enthusiasts to consider purchasing a Habitat and Access Stamp each year. Funds from the $5 stamp supports projects to conserve habitat and improve public access for fish- and wildlife-related activities. This year's Habitat and Access Stamp features a red eft, a juvenile eastern newt.

Expanded Call Center Hours

Beginning this week through Nov. 30, the DEC Call Center is accessible from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays. Regular call center weekday hours will resume Dec. 1.

Individuals should have the following items ready when buying a license:

Complete contact information (e.g. name, address, email address, telephone number);

DEC customer ID number (if applicable);

Proof of residency (e.g., driver's license or non-driver's ID with a valid New York State address); and

If purchasing by phone or internet, a valid credit card.

If not already entered in DEC's automated licensing system, individuals are required to provide proof of hunter or trapper education certification or a copy of a previous license for all hunting and trapping license purchases. For additional information, visit the General Sporting License Information webpage on DEC's website. (Contd. Pg. 69)

DEC Announces Hunting and Trapping Licenses are Now on Sale

(From Pg. 69) Deer Management Permits (DMPs)

DMPs, the tags issued for antlerless deer, are available at all license-issuing outlets, by phone, or online through Oct. 1, 2022. DMPs are used to manage the deer herd and are issued through an instant random selection process at the point of sale. The chances of obtaining a DMP remain the same throughout the application period; hunters need not rush to apply. The 2022 chances of selection for a DMP in each Wildlife Management Unit are available online, through license issuing agents, or by calling the DMP Hotline at 1-866-472-4332. Detailed information on Deer Management Permits and this fall's Deer Season Forecast is available on DEC's website.

The 2022-23 Hunting and Trapping Regulations Guide, which provides an easy-to-read collection of pertinent rules and regulations, is available on the DEC hunting regulations webpage. Copies will be available at license-issuing agents.

Online and In-Person Hunter Education Training Courses

All first-time hunters, bowhunters, and trappers must pass one or more courses before they can purchase a license. Online and in-person courses are available.

In-person courses include a field day where new hunters can get hands-on experience. All in-person courses are free of charge, but space may be limited. Courses fill quickly, so participants are encouraged to sign up early. Visit DEC's website for more information, including a list of courses, registration instructions, and how to obtain study materials.

The requirements to earn a New York State hunter education certificate can also be met by completing DEC's online hunter education course and passing the exam. Upon passing, participants will receive a hunter education certificate to purchase a hunting license. Participants must be New York State residents. The cost of the course is $19.95. The online course can be accessed at DEC's website.

New York State is also offering an online bowhunter education certification course. Upon passing, hunters will receive a bowhunter education certificate. Participants must be New York State residents. The cost of the course is $30. The online course can be accessed at DEC's website.

Additional Hunting Opportunities Continue

Additional deer hunting opportunities initiated last year will continue in 2022. A special early season for antlerless deer runs from Sept. 10 to 18, 2022, in select Wildlife Management Units. Twelve- and 13-year-old hunters may pursue deer with a firearm or crossbow under the supervision of a licensed adult hunter in counties that opt in to the program (see Junior Big Game Hunting map and details), and the new holiday deer hunt provides a second portion of the late bow and muzzleloader season from Dec. 26 to Jan. 1 in the Southern Zone. These opportunities contribute to deer management, allow for young hunters to be mentored by experienced adults, and enable families and friends to hunt together during the holiday season.

Opportunities for Junior Hunters and Trappers

To foster the next generation of responsible hunters and trappers in New York, DEC expanded opportunities for junior hunters (licensees aged 12-15) by designating special youth hunts for deer, wild turkey, pheasants, and waterfowl, as well as opportunities for junior trappers (younger than 12 years old) by establishing the trapper mentoring program. These opportunities allow young hunters and trappers to spend time in the field with experienced adults and gain the necessary knowledge and skills to become safe and responsible members of the hunting and trapping community. More information about these programs and other opportunities for junior hunters and trappers is available on DEC's website.

Remember: Hunt Safe, Hunt Smart!

The number of hunting-relating shooting incidents is declining, but even one incident is too many. Hunters can prevent injuries and fatalities by following the rules of hunting safety:

Assume every gun is loaded;

Control the muzzle in a safe direction;

Keep your finger off the trigger until firing;

Be sure of your target and beyond; and

Wear hunter orange or pink.

Tree stand falls are a major cause of hunting injuries. These hunting-related injuries and fatalities are easily preventable. Hunters are advised to use a full-body harness and fall-arrest system and stay connected from the time they leave the ground until the time they return. Hunters are advised to check stands (including straps and chains) every season and replace worn or missing parts. The proper use of tree stands and full-body harnesses helps prevent injuries and fatalities.

Recently-enacted legislation established new requirements for the purchase and transfer of ownership of semi-automatic rifles and the purchase, possession, storage, and transport of firearms and ammunition in New York. See the Frequently Asked Questions Regarding Recent Changes to New York State Firearm Laws (PDF) on DEC's website for initial guidance. More detailed information will be coming soon.

Keep Chronic Wasting Disease Out of New York

Hunters should take the threat of Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) seriously. CWD is always fatal to deer, elk, moose, and caribou. If introduced, CWD could spread rapidly and be practically impossible to eliminate once established, threatening the future of New York's deer population, hunting tradition, and many of the other benefits associated with deer. The most effective disease management strategy is to prevent CWD from entering New York. Hunters can help protect New York's deer herd from CWD by following these tips:

If hunting any type of deer, elk, moose, or caribou outside of New York, debone the animal before bringing it back, and follow the law about importing carcass parts from outside of New York. See CWD Regulations for Hunters. DEC will confiscate and destroy illegally imported carcasses and parts;

Avoid products containing real deer urine, like scent lures. Prions are shed in the bodily fluids (saliva, feces, urine) of infected deer before they appear sick. Prions bind to soil and plants where they remain infectious for years. There is no way to ensure that products containing deer urine are free of prions. Instead, choose synthetic alternatives;

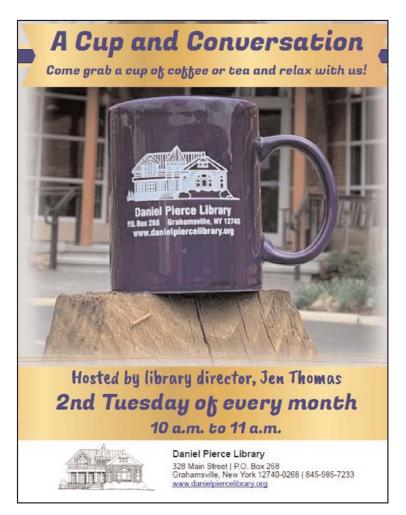

Dispose of carcass waste in a landfill, not on the landscape; Hunt only wild deer and support fair chase hunting principles;

Report any deer that appears sick or is acting abnormally.

Hunters: Want Older Bucks in New York? It's Your Choice Many deer hunters dream of seeing and shooting a large buck, but there is great temptation for a hunter to take the first buck they see, often a young buck, when the opportunity presents itself. New York hunters can increase the likelihood they will harvest an older, larger buck, simply by choosing to pass up shots at young, small-antlered bucks. Older bucks create more rubs and scrapes, are more challenging to hunt, and yield more meat -- all things that may enhance the deer hunting experience.

Many New York hunters are already voluntarily choosing to pass on young bucks. As a result, the availability and harvest of older, larger-antlered bucks is increasing.

To see and take more older bucks, DEC encourages hunters to work with neighbors and hunting partners to cooperatively reduce harvest of young bucks, improve habitat conditions, and ensure adequate harvest of antlerless deer. For more information, go to DEC's website.

Cell Tower Goes Live in Rock Hill Service Provided Where Little-to-None Existed Before

Rock Hill, NY - A County-erected tower atop a Rock Hill peak is now in operation, with a public cell signal available to areas long unserved or underserved.

"This represents the 'perfect trifecta' of services," noted District 9 Legislator Alan Sorensen, whose district encompasses Rock Hill and the surrounding Town of Thompson. "Verizon is leasing space on our tower to provide cell service. We plan to utilize it ourselves for our emergency communications network. And ultimately we'll offer wireless broadband via this tower, with signals reaching potentially as far away as Woodridge, Thompsonville and Yankee Lake."

Built on property acquired from the Emerald Corporate Center behind Crystal Run Healthcare, the 190-foot tower cost approximately $700,000, paid for with a State grant, of which the County's share was only $10,000.

"As we built out the core emergency communications system in 2017, we were looking for pockets where we could improve public safety. At the same time, we saw this as aligning with our broadband and cell expansion goals," said County Manager Josh Potosek. "We also strove to be sensitive to local communities' desire not to have a tower that would significantly impact the viewshed."

"It was a real team effort by multiple members of our staff in various offices, and I commend them for making this a reality," Potosek added. "The ultimate result is a win for everyone living, working, travelling and responding to emergencies in the Rock Hill area."

(From Pg. 31) KNARF'S CLASSIC MOVIES WORLDS FAIR'S FILMS I-5 AVAILABLE ON PRIME @ AMAZON.COM

1 The film is "MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS." Might as well start with the best known one. THE ST. LOUIS FAIR OF 1904 WAS THE LOUISIANA PURCHASE EXPOSITION, commemorating the centennial of the notable land deal with France that gave America much of its Midwest. Among the highlights included a large bird cage, the world's biggest organ (at the time), a wireless telegraph tower, and a concession devoted to the Anglo-Boer War. Dr. Pepper and Puffed Wheat cereal debuted at the fair. Meet Me in St. Louis was, of course, inspired by the song "Meet Me in St. Louis, Louis," which is in the movie. Judy Garland is radiant, and the songs she sings, such as "The Trolley Song" and "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas," have become American standards.

#2. "IT HAPPENED AT THE "WORLD'S FAIR," is set in Seattle this time and is the setting of "THE CENTURY 21 EXPOSITION," IN 1962, all this occurred during The the "Space Race" (first to the moon) with the Soviet Union, then science & technology were major conversations in the press. The "SPACE NEEDLE" was constructed for the FAIR and has since become the symbol of Seattle in general. In addition, the Monorail and the sports facility now known as the KeyArena were built for the Fair. It also was an Elvis movie, made after Jailhouse Rock but before Viva Las Vegas. He sings a song called "Take Me to the Fair" on a ukulele to a kid. There's a scene in the Space Needle, of course. It's also Kurt Russell's debut film, back when he was a child actor. He kicks Elvis in the shins!

3 The 22nd Charlie Chan movie, "CHARLIE CHAN AT TREASURE ISLAND." SAN FRANCISCO'S GOLDEN GATE INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION" was held in 1939-40 (the same years as the New York Fair) on Treasure Island, an artificial island built for the Fair. The Bay Bridge and the Golden Gate Bridge were relatively new at the time, and the island is where the two spans meet. The Pacifica statue, an 81-foot sculpture of the goddess of the Pacific Ocean, was the symbol of the Fair, and the third film featuring Sidney Toler as Chan, he heads out to SF during the Fair to investigate the death of a friend. WAS IT SUICIDE - OR MURDER? There's real footage of the fair, including aerial shots, in the film. Some say the Zodiac killer was inspired by this film to go on his killing spree. Plus, a young Cesar Romero.

4 "SO LONG AT THE FAIR." THE PARIS' EXPOSITION UNIVERSELLE was held in 1889 and it gave the world the Eiffel Tower, named for its designer, Gustave Eiffel, and though people were less than thrilled with it at first, it would go on to become world famous and synonymous with Paris, and indeed, France itself. BUFFALO BILL AND ANNIE OAKLEY performed there as part of their Wild West Show.

5 "GAMERA VS. MONSTER X". Expo '70, or Osaka Banpaku, was held in Osaka, Japan in 1970. IMAX debuted there. A moon rock from the Apollo 12 mission was on display, as were mobile phone prototypes.

The Landmark Tower was built for the Expo, as was the Tower of the Sun, a structure with three human-like faces on its facade, moving staircases and an artificial tree inside. It inspired a song by Shonen Knife.

Even a Japanese monster movie has a Fair connection! Gamera is basically a giant turtle. I'm sure it's only a matter of time before we see him again).

Stay safe, and stay well Knarf Odnamoc Gnome
